Axis reaches a new milestone in the African Continent by becoming an affiliate of ALN

Axis Fiduciary Ltd ("Axis") has contracted a strategic alliance with the Africa Legal Network (ALN) of which Axis is now an affiliate. This partnership signals a new milestone in the regional expansion of Axis. Furthermore, Axis broadens its footprint with the establishment of a licensed Corporate Services Provider in Seychelles and a presence in Kenya through a strategic alliance with Chunga Associates and Specialist Corporate Consultants who will rebrand as Axis Kenya.

Since its inception, Axis has positioned itself as a specialist corporate and fiduciary services provider with expertise in offshore companies, trusts, and fund administration. It provides a full range of professional services to support the effective and efficient operation of corporate, trust and fund structures. Our emphasis has been to be attentive to our clients' needs and provide them with the best global business opportunities and structures.

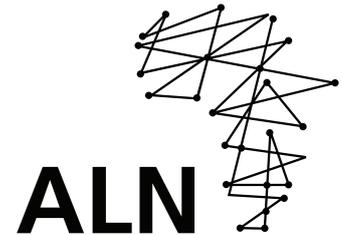

The strategic positioning of Mauritius as an established gateway to Africa, accentuated the need to partner with a powerhouse in the African continent in order to be more competitive. Thus, by becoming an affiliate of ALN, Axis is gearing itself to provide a comprehensive offering to its clients who are either conducting business on in the African continent or intending to do so.

ALN is a leading independent African alliance of top tier law firms. ALN's firms are recognized in international legal directories and many have advised on ground breaking, first-of-a-kind deals in their markets. ALN is the largest and only grouping of its kind in Africa, with close working relationships across its members and an established network of Best Friends across the continent. The firms share common values and are located in three major regional economic groupings – EAC, SADC and COMESA – with a combined population of 325 million people. ALN firms are on the ground in some of Africa's fastest growing jurisdictions: Botswana, Burundi, Ethiopia, Kenya, Malawi, Mauritius, Mozambique, Rwanda, Sudan, Tanzania, Uganda and Zambia.

ALN is represented in Mauritius through BLC Chambers, one of the leading law firms, listed as a Band 1 Firm by Chambers and Partners and as a Top Tier law firm by the IFLR. BLC Chambers is also associated with the leading international law firm Harney Westwood & Riegels (Harneys) which operates through a network of 6 offices around the world including BVI, Cayman, Cyprus and Anguilla.

This alliance is being showcased through a new corporate identity fully aligned with ALN. The synergy between Axis and BLC, coupled with their association with ALN, and the establishment of a physical presence in Seychelles and Kenya will no doubt provide the necessary impetus to propel Axis on a unique platform to spearhead their activities both regionally and globally.
